NEW ZEALAND OFFER

INTRODUCTION

Attached are details of New Zealand's offer. The offer covers both industrial and agricultural products and takes account of the procedures agreed upon in Group Agriculture in relation to requests and offers.

a. TARIFF OFFER

New Zealand does not find it possible to participate in the tariff-cutting negotiations on the basis of the formula developed as a working hypothesis by certain countries. This decision was taken in the light of the structure of the New Zealand economy; its heavy reliance upon trade in agricultural products (much of which is subject to non-tariff barriers); the continuing serious adverse balance of payments problems; and the stage reached in its industrial development.

Nevertheless as a full and active participant in the multilateral trade negotiations New Zealand accepts an obligation to submit an offer which is consistent with this role. In addition to presenting the attached positive tariff offer, New Zealand is willing to give further consideration to specific requests for tariff concessions, including bindings, where these have not been offered.

Like others, New Zealand has taken 1 January 1974 as the base date for its tariff offer. Since then, and having regard to the objectives of the multilateral trade negotiations, New Zealand has reduced the level of its tariff protection. The reduction of many MFN rates followed the phasing out and removal of the British Preferential tariff system. In addition there will be wide-ranging cuts in tariff rates in the formulation of a new Customs Tariff which it is proposed to implement on 1 July 1978.

A comparison between the new Tariff and the position pertaining on 1 January 1974 indicates an overall weighted average decrease of the order of 30 percent in substantive tariff rates. In the new Tariff many goods have been recategorised to Free or minimal rates of duty and there have been a significant number of cuts from the highest tariff levels.

Attached are six schedules covering items where New Zealand is prepared to bind tariffs at the rates indicated. The schedules have been prepared to reflect, as far as possible, the objective of offering bindings at the duty free level or tariff reductions of the order of 40 percent. In addition the offer contains a considerable element of tariff harmonisation.

In preparing the offer special attention was paid to the position of the developing countries and it reflects responses to requests on items of particular importance to these countries.

The schedules are categorised below for ease of analysis:

- Schedule A - items on which a reduction of 40 percent or more in existing bound rates is offered.
- Schedule B - items on which New Zealand is prepared to reduce existing bound rates to Free.
- Schedule C - items involving a binding of reductions of 40 percent or more against base rates.
- Schedule D - items on which New Zealand is prepared to offer new bindings at Free.
- Schedule E - additional offers to bind at low duty rates.
- Schedule F - additional initial binding offers in response to requests.

These schedules cover tariff items in both the agricultural and industrial sectors generally. Their preparation has taken into account agricultural requests that have been received under the request and offer procedure agreed upon by Group Agriculture.

New Zealand is prepared to give further consideration to requests on agricultural products already lodged. New Zealand also invites its trading partners to submit additional requests in both the agricultural and industrial sectors, where they seek tariff cuts or bindings which have not already been offered.

b. NON-TARIFF MEASURES

Import Licensing

New Zealand has received a number of requests related to its import licensing system. In some cases these requests have been of a general nature.

New Zealand's system of import control through licensing applies to only about 28 percent by value of total imports. It is nevertheless an important means of economic management in New Zealand, particularly in light of New Zealand's continuing serious balance of payments problems.

In these circumstances New Zealand is not able to consider the elimination of the licensing system as a whole. However, New Zealand invites those countries which have requested the abolition of the system in its entirety, or have made requests on broad categories of goods, to specify in detail the particular products in which they would like New Zealand to consider requests.

As regards specific requests which have been lodged New Zealand is prepared to open negotiations with the countries concerned. In general any liberalisation or elimination of import licensing will in each case depend on the outcome of negotiations on items where New Zealand has itself lodged requests concerning non-tariff measures applied by other participants in areas of major trade interest to New Zealand.

Health and Sanitary Regulations

A number of requests on health and sanitary measures will need to be clarified in the course of bilateral consultations.

State Trading Practices

A number of requests have been received concerning monopoly importing arrangements in New Zealand. New Zealand does not believe that the monopoly importing provision in itself operates as an inhibition to trade, but is prepared to pursue the matter further in bilateral discussions.

Customs Matters

Several requests have been received concerning New Zealand's customs valuation system and related practices. New Zealand has indicated that it is prepared to change from its current domestic value system as a contribution to the MTN, and is prepared to participate in the work of the Subgroup Customs Matters in order to reach agreement on a Code regarding customs valuation.

c. DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

New Zealand has received requests from developing countries, some of which have been covered by the tariff offer now made. Other requests that have been or may be received will be considered further in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Tokyo Declaration.

d. IMPLEMENTATION OF OFFERS

Reciprocity

In the context of the negotiations New Zealand will take into account the basic principles outlined in paragraph five of the Tokyo Declaration. These are that the negotiations should be conducted on the basis of the principles of mutual advantage, mutual commitment and overall reciprocity to achieve a balance of advantage at the highest possible level.

Accordingly, specific offers on tariff or non-tariff measures may be adjusted as a result of bilateral or plurilateral negotiations, and will in general be implemented only as significant improvements in access and other conditions of trade are made in relation to products of principal export interest to New Zealand, in particular dairy products and meat.

Nomenclature

The Schedules containing New Zealand's tariff offer show offers in terms of both the current and the proposed Tariffs. In the preparation of final offers the Schedules will be amalgamated and expressed in terms of the new tariff nomenclature.

Staging

The offers made relate to rates which will come into effect on 1 July 1978. In considering further requests New Zealand may consider the elements of phased introduction discussed in relation to the formula approach.

10 April 1979

Dear Sir,

GATT: MTN NEW ZEALAND OFFER

Since this delegation submitted New Zealand's initial offer on tariff reductions in March 1978, we have pursued our bilateral negotiations with other MTN participants with a view to achieving a mutual balance of advantage at the highest possible level.

However, in order to ensure that a balance is maintained, it has become necessary for New Zealand to adjust its offer by the removal of certain items from the initial offer list forwarded to you in March 1978. The items affected are contained in the attached list.

I would be grateful if you could arrange for the circulation of this letter and its attachment to all participants in the MTN.

Yours faithfully,

NEW ZEALAND PERMANENT MISSION TO THE
OFFICE OF THE UNITED NATIONS AT GENEVA

28 A, CHEMIN DU PETIT-SAONNEX
1209 GENEVA - TEL. 34 95 30

21 June 1979

Dear Mr Linden,

I attach New Zealand's Schedule of MTN Tariff concessions for reproduction.

Although it is unlikely that any amendments will be required between now and 30 June, the possibility cannot be excluded, and for this reason, coupled with the need for us to ensure that the Schedules of main trading partners adequately reflect our negotiations, you should not proceed with the circulation of the Schedule until you have received an indication from our delegation.

Yours sincerely,

Permanent Representative.

2. The rates of duty set out in the "Concession Rate" column will be implemented in full with effect from 1 January 1980. However, should other participants withhold, withdraw or defer implementation of concessions for certain items, New Zealand reserves its rights to take appropriate action.

3. Where the tariff descriptions in the second column cover two or more individual tariff items or parts thereof, the concession applies to each such tariff item individually.
